Fume Hoods

Fume hoods provide vital ventilation in laboratory settings, filtering out smoke, toxic fumes, dust, mist, and other irritants while simultaneously releasing clean air into the working environment.

At OnePointe Solutions, we act as contractor, manufacturer designer, and architect to provide our clients with the highest quality fume hood solutions. We work with top brands like Labconco to provide a variety of fume hood types, so no matter what your lab needs may be, we can help you find the perfect solution.

We offer several options for your laboratory needs:

- General Chemistry Hoods
- Biosafety Hoods
- Educational Demonstration Hoods
- Ductless/Filtered Hoods
- Floor-Mounted Hoods
- PVC and Stainless Hoods
- Steam, Heat, and Light Vapor Hoods
- Ventilated Mass Spec Enclosures
- Ventilated Casework and Refrigeration Units
