EPOXY RESIN

Epoxy resin is a quality material that is resistant to most chemicals, moisture, impact and heat; it's the ideal solution for environments that are very corrosive or have a high level of moisture. OnePointe Solutions offers epoxy resin countertops and workbenches.

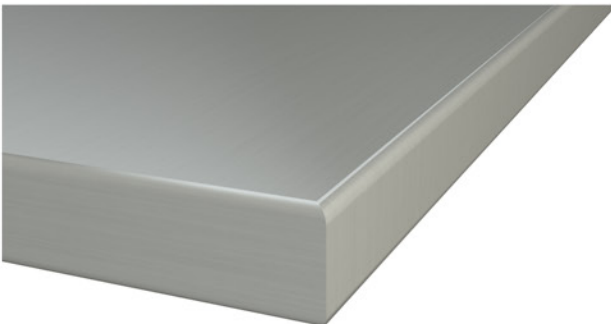

PHENOLIC RESIN

Phenolic resin countertops and table tops meet the requirements of most laboratories while including additional benefits such as chemical, wear, and water resistance.

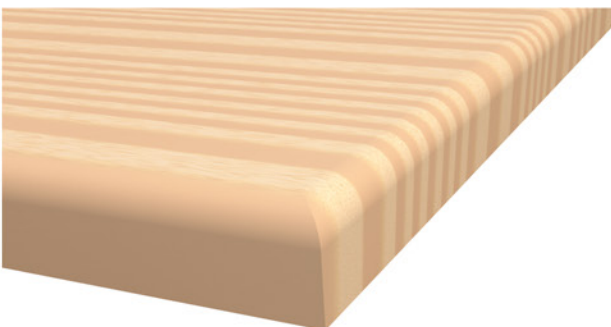

HIGH-DENSITY POLYETHYLENE

High-density polyethylene tops are light weight and provide a non-absorbent and stain free surface that is best used for food preparation.

STAINLESS STEEL

Stainless steel is the ultimate solution for adding resistance to your workspace. As a nonporous surface, no liquid or substance can penetrate into the material; bacteria, mold and other common germs don't stand a chance.

MAPLE BLOCK

The rock-hard edge grain construction of our maple butcher block ensures maximum strength and durability. Our maple tops are hard at work in factories, in kitchens, and on shipping and receiving docks around the world. In the material handling business there is no better top than solid maple.
